Afternoon Bast,

I spoke to Liz last week and believe the IT guys were looking at getting everything set up for you – has this moved along? Have you heard back from them?

If there is anything else you need or are struggling to gain access to – do let me know and I can chase from this side for you.

Best wishes
Clare

Hi Sebastian,

Have you got the log in you need yet – or heard anything back from our IT?

Thanks
Clare

My pleasure, lovely to meet you both. And yes, think the end of Feb is realistic, and I think we can do everything that you'll need.

The goal for this service I believe, is to never have the system fail to process/capture an order/return/cancellation. Even if SYSPRO is down for maintenance or some other issue (as it typically is), the mediator service should capture everything into a sort of queue system, and then batch process them. This hopefully means that there will be minimal strain on the SYSPRO database/app server, and then we can decide together how frequently/what will constitute a this batch operaiton,

I am cc'ing Sarah in as she may be able to advise on what should be stored in SYSPRO, and what is stored in the Shopify side, or any other general insights.

Oh and finally, sorry to keep badgering you about it, but Melanie did you get a chance to speak to IT about the VPN access?
No worries if not I will drop them another email.

Will keep you both in the loop as things progress.

Kind regards,
Bast

HI Bast,

Really lovely to chat to you earlier and thank you for your reassurance about the technical side of things not being an issue – as we are more than happy to detail what we need it to look like, if you can do the techy magic 😊

Shopify information that we need to move from Shopify to Syspro:

- Shopify Order Number – Purchase Order number
- Date of Order being placed
- Expected Dispatch Date
- Delivery Address

- Contact details (Phone / email)
- SKU Code (Individual Items Product Code)
- Quantity
- Price (the price paid – so this needs to be the full price or discounted price – it needs to match what has been paid in Shopify)
- Shipping costs (If applicable)

We would want this information to travel from Shopify to Syspro once payment is completed.

In the long term we will look at how a return & refund would work, and we would want the refund to trigger from Shopify - ONLY once the item is received back, checked / inspected and put back into stock on Syspro.

MELANIE : If I have missed anything that you would need to be filled in on your SYSPRO order, from SHOPIFY, add it in here 😊

BAST : Once you have tested and want to share the next steps, do drop us an email. There is a desire that the site will be live at the end of Feb, and a possibly slightly more realistic expectation of the end of March 😊, just to give you some context of timeframes. Essentially the sooner the better! I will need help adding in the snippets of code to Shopify – but once you have the details, we can go on line and I can share my screen and we can do that together.

Keep in touch and we'll speak again soon!

Clare
